Basic Rules on How to Play Boules

Doubles                      2 boules each – 4 per pair

Teams toss to decide who throws first. Winner selects colour (of boules) or first throw. The first thrower stands with at least one foot in the hoop. The other foot cannot be in front. He/She throws the jack 6 to 10 metres along the lane.

From the hoop, the same player throws or rolls one boule to approach the jack. Opposition then throws or rolls a boule, attempting to get closer, AND continues to throw until they do so, or run out of boules, whichever comes first. Once a lead is established by either side, at any stage of the game, the trailing side are obliged to throw until they regain the lead or run out of boules.

When all boules have been thrown, the score is added up. The boule closest to the jack wins the end and scores one point. Additional points are gained for any other boules which the winning team have closer to the jack than the opposition's best boules.

The winning pair are the ones to throw the jack back from the opposite end to start the next game. Play continues until one side scores 13 points.
